Join us on a bird walk this winter along the shore of the Fox River

GENEVA, IL — Learn how to identify some of the birds that brave Kane County during the harsh winter months.

As we hike, look, and listen for birds along the shore of the Fox River, a Forest Preserve District naturalist will share interesting facts and folklore. Join us for “Birding the Winter Rivershore,” on Sunday, Feb. 6, from 10-11 a.m. at Fox River Shores Forest Preserve.

Advance registration is required for this free, all-ages program. Call 630-444-3190 or email programs@kaneforest.com to register.

Fox River Shores Forest Preserve is located at 701 N. Williams Rd., Carpentersville.
